

Monument Beach

Monument Beach gets its name from the large rock formation in the centre of the beach. This beach has great space for camping but not a lot of room for anchoring. The bottom is rock with shallow sand so it would be wise to use large anchors, the reef is flat and suitable to dry out on. If there is any swell around this beach cops a surge and could be unsuitable.